

LADIES' HomeJournal

DECEMBER 2005

The Septuplets
At 8
All-New
Photos

Simple
Stress
Cures
To Feel Better Fast

COOKIE HEAVEN!
Easy, Yummy
Recipes

Great Gifts
& Toys
All Under $30

Is It
Heartburn—
Or a
Heart Attack?
How to Tell

Rick Warren's
Plan for Peace, Hope
And Healing

Cheery Holiday
Pretty Decorating & Crafts
Festive Fuss-Free Recipes

GREAT DEAL

1
2
3
4

- 1. You haven't tasted honey till you've tried Black Sage. $18; www.savannahbee.com
- 2. These delicately decorated chocolates are (almost) too pretty to eat. $25 a box; www.jinpatisserie.com
- 3. With Bionaturae's spaghetti, Lucini's vinegar and sauce, and Reston Lloyd's colander, a pasta-loving friend has all she needs. Pasta, $2.49, colander, $21.99, www.wholefoodsmarket.com; vinegar, $8, sauce, $7.99, www.lucini.com

For Foodies

5
6

- 4. Know a child who loves to help in the kitchen? The Little Cook's Kit includes a pint-size apron and chef's hat. $25; www.sassafrasenterprises.com
- 5. This set of finger-lickin' sauces makes an ideal hostess gift. 12 Oaks, $29.95 for three; www.shopnco.com
- 6. O Cassis vinegar is flavored with sweet black currants; $15 with gift tube; www.ooliveoil.com

7
8

- 7. Aficionados agree: Serendipity 3 World Famous Frozen Hot Chocolate tastes great. $9.99; www.shonfelds.com
- 8. Give the classic Oreo cookie, dressed for the holidays. $18.50 per box; www.goodfortunes.com

CONTINUED