5 PUSH THE PETALS
Up-and-coming florist Denise Porcaro of Flower Girl (who counts Drew Barrymore as a client) opens a shop within a shop at Earnest Sewn's new Lower East Side outpost, $250.

6 TIE ONE ON
Roberta Freymann, the designer behind Roberta Roller Rabbit—printed pajamas for the play-group set, offers an ornate semiprecious stone-encrusted "bib" necklace for grown-ups, $220; Roberta Freymann, NYC.

7 TOP OFF YOUR LOOK

8 DO YOUR BODY GOOD
Trainer Brett Hoebel is whisked away to far-off locales to prep the Victoria's Secret models for their annual runway show. Shape up for summer by booking an appointment at his capoeira-infused fitness studio, bodyBrasil; (212) 366-1342; hoebel.com. Victoria's Secret bikini top ($15) and bottom ($14); (800) 888-8200.

9 TEND TO YOUR SKIN
The Savannah Bee Company's ultra-moisturizing Royal Jelly body butter is made from honey produced by worker bees for their queen. Sweet. $25; savannahbee.com.

12 TREAT YOURSELF
One of childhood's greatest pleasures, light-as-air cotton candy from Sam Mason's SoHo restaurant Tailor will indulge any sweet tooth; tailornc.com.

11 BORROW FROM THE BOYS
Tote a streamlined, structured leather briefcase to show you mean business. Zac Posen bag, $2,100; Neiman Marcus.

10 CLASH YOUR PRINTS
Mixing—never matching—is making a splash on runways (here, Raquel Zimmermann backstage at Dries van Noten) and interiors. Antique cushion and armchair from Indigo Seas, Los Angeles.
